STAGE RIDER (11/2008)

Bassamp has D.I. output.
Keyboarder brings his own D.I. boxes.
Horns use their own clip-mics, needing 48V phantom power.
Guitarist, bass player and keyboarder each need a 230V plug near their equipment.

Ideally, 5 monitor channels are provided and all three singers have their own monitor.
In small clubs, where not as many monitors (or channels) as shown can be provided, the keyboarder can bring his own active monitor and create his own monitor mix. PLEASE LET US KNOW !
